The Honorable Charles Clark, Chief Judge
United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit
245 East Capitol Street, Room 302
Jackson, Mississippi 39201

Dear Chief Judge Clark:

Last week, at the annual luncheon of the Federal Bar Association to honor the judges of the Ninth Circuit, Chief Judge Wallace presented to Judge Peckham and me the Resolutions adopted by the Executive Committee that acknowledged so graciously the work we did in connection with the Biden legislation. Both of us were taken completely by surprise. We literally had no idea that the Executive Committee had taken this action or that we would be recognized in such a gratifying setting. Our pleasure is intensified by the fact that the words of the Resolutions are so wonderfully chosen and so specific to our roles. We are extremely grateful to you personally, to the other members of the Executive Committee (especially to Judge Barker, who I have reason to believe had more than a little to do with this), and to Karen Siegel, who I would guess also played a significant role.

Even though occasionally the hours were long and the deadlines were harrowing, I found the work very stimulating and I was thrilled to have the opportunity to work with such talented leadership. This recognition adds a special sense of satisfaction to what was intrinsically gratifying work. So thank you, very much.

Sincerely,

Wayne D. Brazil
